Henry Charles Harford⁶ was born in 1829 and was christened on 2 Jan 1830 in Holy Trinity Church, Stapleton, Bristol, Gloucestershire. He never married and had no children.

Rev. Canon Frederick Kill Harford⁶ was born in 1832 in Clifton, Bristol, Gloucestershire, was christened on 6 Mar 1832 in St. Andrew's Church, Clifton, Bristol, Gloucestershire, and died on 11 Nov 1906 in 4A Dean's Yard, Westminster, London. He never married and had no children.

Basic notes:

He was awarded with MA FSA. The name Kill is derived from his father's paternal grandmother, Hannah Kill. He was educated at Rugby. He worked as a Curate of Croydon in Croydon, Surrey. He worked as a Minor Canon of Westminster. He worked as a Founder of the Guild of St. Cecilia in 1891. The purpose of his organisation, was to provide music therapy to hospital patients in late-Victorian England. Initially it drew a lot of support, including that of Florence Nightingale. Sadly, it failed to draw the financial support for long term survival and eventually, a century before its time, it fizzled out. He worked as a Poet and Hymnist. He was a friend and correspondent of Gustave Doré and a possible acquaintance of James McNeill Whistler. He lived at 4A Dean's Yard, Westminster, London.

Capt. Samuel Henry Harford⁶ was born on 20 Apr 1833 in Clifton, Bristol, Gloucestershire, was christened on 6 Jun 1833 in St. Andrew's Church, Clifton, Bristol, Gloucestershire, and died in 1904.

Basic notes:

He worked as an Ensign of the 36th Foot. Transfers to the 56th by exchange, 31 October 1851. He worked as a Lieutenant of the 56th Essex Regiment in 1856. This covers the latter phase of the Crimean campaign in which he saw service. He worked as a Vice-Consul before 1870 in Sebastopol, Crimea, Ukraine. He worked as a H.M. Consul before 1890 in Sebastopol, Crimea, Ukraine. He worked as a H.M. Consul from 1890 to 1892 in Santa Cruz de Tenerife, Canary Islands. He worked as a H.M. Consul from 1895 to 1898 in Nouméa, Grande Terre, New Caledonia. He worked as a H.M. Consul on 11 Nov 1898 in Manila, Philippines. He had expected to return to Nouméa from leave, but instead was despatched to Manila. Miscellaneous: Some state that he was born in about 1815 and died in 1914. That is nonsense. Samuel Henry's eldest sibling, (Charles Joseph Harford) was born in 1826.... when their mother would only have been 11 years of age. As it was, their parents did not marry until 1825 when aged 27 and 24.

Just as his birth and christening records show, Samuel Henry Harford was born 20th April and christened 6th June 1833, which is supported by the more faithful, Annals of the Harford Family, (Alice Mary Elizabeth Harford - 1909).

The same text mentions his later being a member of the consular service and gives his death as having occurred in 1904. Would the above family book readily state his death as 1914, were he still living? I am not confident however, that the book treats the record accurately when it gives his death as d.s.p.

(Decessit sine prole), for there was, as again the records show, a child, a son, who was born in 1870 when his father was serving as Vice-Consul in Sebastopol and who was baptised with the name Alexandrika. Samuel Henry's wife died at Yalta, the following year. Whether their son lived long enough to make his mark upon the world, is as yet unknown. But if not, then d.s.p. ought at least be d.s.p.s.

As to the whereabouts of Samuel Henry Harford's death, I find no record as yet, for either 1904 or 1914. He was appointed H.M. Consul to Manila in 1898, when aged 65 and it seems improbable that he retained his office for another six years.

He worked as a Minor Canon of Westminster. He worked as a Founder of the Guild of St. Cecilia in 1891. The purpose of his organisation, was to provide music therapy to hospital patients in late-Victorian England. Initially it drew a lot of support, including that of Florence Nightingale. Sadly, it failed to draw the financial support for long term survival and eventually, a century before its time, it fizzled out. He worked as a Poet and Hymnist. He was a friend and correspondent of Gustave Doré and a possible acquaintance of James McNeill Whistler. He lived at 4A Dean's Yard, Westminster, London.

Capt. Samuel Henry Harford⁶ was born on 20 Apr 1833 in Clifton, Bristol, Gloucestershire, was christened on 6 Jun 1833 in St. Andrew's Church, Clifton, Bristol, Gloucestershire, and died in 1904.

Basic notes:

He worked as an Ensign of the 36th Foot. Transfers to the 56th by exchange, 31 October 1851. He worked as a Lieutenant of the 56th Essex Regiment in 1856. This covers the latter phase of the Crimean campaign in which he saw service. He worked as a Vice-Consul before 1870 in Sebastopol, Crimea, Ukraine. He worked as a H.M. Consul before 1890 in Sebastopol, Crimea, Ukraine. He worked as a H.M. Consul from 1890 to 1892 in Santa Cruz de Tenerife, Canary Islands. He worked as a H.M. Consul from 1895 to 1898 in Nouméa, Grande Terre, New Caledonia. He worked as a H.M. Consul on 11 Nov 1898 in Manila, Philippines. He had expected to return to Nouméa from leave, but instead was despatched to Manila. Miscellaneous: Some state that he was born in about 1815 and died in 1914. That is nonsense. Samuel Henry's eldest sibling, (Charles Joseph Harford) was born in 1826.... when their mother would only have been 11 years of age. As it was, their parents did not marry until 1825 when aged 27 and 24.

Just as his birth and christening records show, Samuel Henry Harford was born 20th April and christened 6th June 1833, which is supported by the more faithful, Annals of the Harford Family, (Alice Mary Elizabeth Harford - 1909).

The same text mentions his later being a member of the consular service and gives his death as having occurred in 1904. Would the above family book readily state his death as 1914, were he still living? I am not confident however, that the book treats the record accurately when it gives his death as d.s.p. (Decessit sine prole), for there was, as again the records show, a child, a son, who was born in 1870 when his father was serving as Vice-Consul in Sebastopol and who was baptised with the name Alexandrika. Samuel Henry's wife died at Yalta, the following year. Whether their son lived long enough to make his mark upon the world, is as yet unknown. But if not, then d.s.p. ought at least be d.s.p.s.

As to the whereabouts of Samuel Henry Harford's death, I find no record as yet, for either 1904 or 1914. He was appointed H.M. Consul to Manila in 1898, when aged 65 and it seems improbable that he retained his office for another six years.

She was the fourth daughter of Sam[uel] Waring, esq. of Alton, Hants ; at which place her remains were interred. If an exemplary discharge of religious duties, and a life of self-denial amidst an affluent fortune, in order to supply more liberally the wants of others ; if alms-deeds, unproclaimed by the trumpet of ostentation ; and if a mind divinely supported through the decay of nature, are peculiarly the marks of a sincere Christian, she had a fair claim to that best of characters. As she has left no child, her property is bequeathed to the numerous branches of her own family "
